HOW IS MY TEAM MADE UP AND WHAT DO WE DO?

- My team consists of approximately 60-65 professionals working on the Nationwide mobile app. The breakdown is as follows:
- 50+ software engineers, 2 software managers, 2 product managers, 2 agile leaders, and 3 student workers (including myself)
- The Nationwide mobile app offers convenient features for policyholders, allowing them to pay bills, print ID cards, make policy changes, and file/track claims
- All these services are accessible directly from the user's smartphone, enhancing the overall customer experience

MY ROLE ON THE TEAM

- Currently, I am adapting to selecting my own task cards and pairing with software engineers on the team. Over the summer, I was assigned the task of creating Maestro tests for the app
- Maestro is considered the most effective UI testing framework. I developed approximately 10 of these tests over a period of 4-6 weeks
- As a result of this work, my team is now able to complete regression testing much more efficiently. To the right, you can see an example of the work I completed

MY ROLE AS AN INTERN

- As an intern on the Mobile Development team, I gained practical experience while also taking on additional responsibilities. These included creating newsletters for both the entire intern group and specifically for the tech interns
- Also, I was selected to be part of the I I-member intern council. In this role, I led the organization of National Intern Day, which involved presenting a slideshow to all interns, team leads, and managers/directors
- During our one-week in-person session for tech interns, I took the initiative to host nightly events. These ranged from happy hours and baseball games to casual gatherings around Columbus, fostering a sense of community among the interns
